JUR PURITAN RUG, in which we hope to interest every man and woman who peruses this description, derives its beauty from the artistic and picturesque days of the Sixteenth Century.

During the long and sometimes lonely hours of that period, the maidens, in he absence of their lovers, found time hang heavily upon their hands. So they turned their thoughts to creation of artistic rugs.

The industrious and artistic temperaments, descended to them from their Holland forefathers, stood them in good stead during their struggles and privations, and eventually opened a great market for the product of their dainty fingers

Quite naturally their designs smacked of the quaintness of the time and the poetical tendency of their minds and to this is due the beauty of the Puritan Rug, of which we are now making a specialty worthy in every respect of our splendid new store home.

Close inspection will reveal the intricate, studious and almost solemn character of the many beautiful designs and those who are fond of romance and the days of long ago may picture to themselves a quaint Puritan maid, weaving rug designs on the banks of a limpid stream while awaiting the return of her broad shouldered lover from scenes of sanguinary conflict and conquest So these Puritan Rugs with their dreamy associations and the flavor of ages past and gone have more than an intrinsic value -yea, more, much more. This is not a business-like way of describing our rug, you may say, but you will appreciate our inspiration when once you inspect our many pretty patterns of Puritan Rugs which we shall sell at a special

Many Leople ask how we are able to sell furniture so much lower than other houses in this vicinity. That question is casily explained. The Rosen hum Furriture Company of Connellsville and the Kobacker Furniture Company of Johndo, Ohio, the latter the large t in the State of Ohio, are one and the same concern. When we buy, we buy in carloads, yes train loads, and consequently we are able to get prices from the manufacturers that others cannot get when we aid a fair profit our selling prices are naturally much lower than others. That's the reason-it's the buying of these two stores that makes the prices so low.

is Choosing Time Among the Sheer Wash Goods

"How time flices." Summer with all its heat will soon be here and, when those not days are upon us it's no time then to be thinking of an arry organdic gown or a sheer swiss dress. No that's the time to wear them and ight now is the fine to make them. When those days coinc in a couple of months, eight short weeks, you will have to be satisfied with what is left it you put off buying until "the wise ones are done." But now you have the bicades collection of sheet, dany, at v, filmy wash stuffs to choose from that has ever been brought together in one gloup in this town. Prices are as low as they will lever be and never in the history of merchancising have more becustful wish stuffs been shown than in this present season, everything is flowers, and the new 1000 weaves are wenderfu. We cannot adequately describe the beauty of these gauzy, siken transparent weaves. You will agree when you see this collection spread out before you that you have never seen its beauty equaled. The beauty is unquestionable. The prices are interesting to prospective parchasers. We give a paint list of fabrics and pinces
